RE: Practical Astral Projection for the Former "Slave Class Cyborg" Human

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

This trance induction technique allows for the maintenance of self-awareness while the physical body falls asleep.

As the physical body sleeps, human awareness naturally leaves the physical plane and exists "beyond light speed" in the astral plane or dreamworld. A slight modification of the natural process of falling asleep, involving the use of meditation, ensures safety. Viewing the physical plane directly while out of body (OOBE) requires one to use another method (which may not be completely safe) or to vibrationally "drop down," out of the astral plane while maintaining a light body (which requires further discipline). Human awareness naturally resides in a "gene machine" (biological body) while on the material plane. Your awareness automatically jumps back into your body as you awaken from sleep.

Work every evening, even if you have trouble maintaining your awareness at first, relaxed meditational focus being the key. Lie in bed and use a relaxation technique. The sexual repression, stored in our chronic muscular armoring, influences the subconscious visionary field by creating an experiential wall of darkness between planes ("Valley of Death") that has a dis-solving influence upon human self-awareness (read Wilhelm Reich and Carl Jung). The secret-elite class of cultural pirates (Romans?) work to make it illegal to be relaxed and graceful, so as to interfere with "plane to plane" experiential communication. Once relaxed, close your eyes and stare into the "valley of darkness" and know that reality exists on the other side . . . desire to leave your body, not with tension, but with a relaxed attitudinal stance. As your body relaxes, you may begin to feel "heavy" and begin to pleasantly lose awareness of your body . . . sometimes experiencing an electric vibrational feeling that could make you "jump back" into bodily awareness. It takes time and effort to train the subconscious mind to allow you to experience the sensation of fully separating from the body and the transition to beyond light speed awareness. As you continue to stare into the darkness, you may begin to notice yellow or blue dots of light. The blue light accompanies orgone energy and the yellow dots (sol dots?) can expand into portals (each containing a different scene) that you can "jump into" when the body falls asleep. The dots may also spin in a clockwise direction as they disappear into a scene from the astral plane. You will probably also begin experiencing hypnogogic imagery or small dream image sequences that vary in intensity. Sometimes you will see these images unfold before your eyes from a holotropically enfolded background (dream noise). The background may seem colorless, as the specific image that catches your attention unfolds and "bursts forth" in "more real than real" color and seems to take dominion over the background scene as the background disappears.

You may suddenly awaken at any time during this process, so keep at it (most people find this difficult). Avoid having so many thoughts that your self-consciousness dissolves into them. Calm meditative focus enhances conscious experience and eradicates divisiveness. "LSD Psychotherapy" by Stanislav Grof offers valuable insight into the nature of holotropically experienced reality on multiple vibrational planes, including understanding some of the more horrible astral experiences. Your own will acts as the prime formative influence in your life and creates the repression that divides and blocks consciousness (which includes your own self-created "valley of death"). Nothing in the dream world can hurt you unless it tricks you into injuring yourself. Remember that survival on the astral plane requires relaxed control of consciousness.

Avoid caffeine consumption before bed time, as this makes the mind and body "wired" at the same time. The body must relax while the mind remains calm, sharp and alert. Learn about your individual character structure (Wilhelm Reich) by studying the imagery and sensations experienced while "passing over" to the other side.

At a certain point in the process, when the body relaxes deeply, you may feel yourself slip out of the body but remain paralyzed. Avoid startling yourself back awake. You will be able to move as you sink further into the experience. Sometimes you may find yourself located inside your night stand but still be able to see the room. You may also find yourself in the "valley of darkness." You can "tune" into a formative subplane by making yourself "form-aware" while out-of-body. Raise your hands to your face and watch them form right in front of you. A whole world should form around you.

Astral body awareness, while out of gene body, can be nonlocal feeling or hard to "make 100% sense of," even though sensations of stomping on astral ground feel real. Some dream worlds glow with golden light, while others feel heavy and mundane. You may desire to look at an apple and a hand will appear out of "nowhere" and give you an apple. As you look at the apple you can see it has all of the minute detail that an "Earth apple" has. Suburbia also has its place "out there." Any mind pollution created by man exists on the astral plane as a dirty, rotten or mundane astral-realm layer. Beautiful thought creates beautiful reality. The thought of getting back into your body takes you back . . . you will find yourself there and awake. You might also dream of jumping back into your body, or if you are not quite lucid, you may dream of jumping into say . . . a red car with a purple colored nitro-injection system showing through the hood. You might also look for an astral "umbilical cord" running out the back of the base of your skull while on the astral plane. This may not be perceptible all of the time but the cord usually runs back to your physical body's "third eye" chakra area. Cleansing the body physically can enhance the process of astral projection by making it easier to see the other side of the valley of darkness. Increased vitality also helps. While fasting you might see surprisingly clear but faint hypnogogic imagery, the instant you close your eyes. The lunar cycles also have an influence upon the process. Males might notice that a full moon enhances the experience for them while females might notice that menstruation (new moon) enhances ease of access to other worlds. The ancient female oracle societies made use of this knowledge before they were genocidally destroyed by artificial patriarchal religions like Christianity or Secret "Masonic" Piracy. True (sol) male religion as a healthy form of Goddess worship and Earth God personification disappeared even earlier, probably during the agricultural phase of the most recent human evolutionary process to occur on this planet. Avoid tap water and table salt as these poisons interfere with life processes of all kinds. Drink natural water and use natural (wet and grayish) sea salt (vital trace elements) that hasn't been baked.

RE: Secret Organizations

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

Secret organizations tend to be of two basic ideological dispositions. The first being an exploitive agenda, to be forced on unsuspecting individuals, populations and competing organizations, and the second being comprised of noninvasive countermeasures for use against the paramilitary and psychological warfare activities of invasive organizations that interfere with free public access to advanced human knowledge.

An organization with an oppressive and/or exploitive agenda will typically establish a pyramidal and centralized authoritative hierarchy with controllable intermediary contacts between some organizational levels. The secret and conspiratorial top level in the hierarchy maintains exclusive control over key information that reveals the true nature of the organization's agenda and operational mode. A simplified and distorted version of the agenda of the organization (We are the good guys and they are the bad guys) provides motivation for the technicians and drones that fill the ranks of the lower organizational levels. Recruitment of personnel into the organization becomes more plausible under these circumstances (the recruits being ignorant of the organization's true agenda). The craving for authority of emotionally plagued personnel and the exclusiveness associated with rank provides a degree of selective buffering of information flowing down the hierarchy, some of the exclusively maintained information being of a personal and extortive nature in regards the lives of subordinate personnel, as anxiety stasis acts as the primary motivation for inter-organizational discipline. Anxiety stasis induced rage provides the exploitive motivation for those in positions of authority, encouraging jealous hoarding of information and resources.

These organizations pattern themselves around social processes associated with the manifestation of a mass characterological disease called the emotional plague. Emotionally plagued people can be identified by their tendencies to collect information about others (gossip), form hostile conspiratorial cliques, maneuver against others from ambush and attempt to profit from others' downfalls, their dependence upon gossip continuing to grow as their own senses become progressively more distorted and blocked. The formative nature of the distortion of in-form-ation contained within the gossip can reveal the present state of delusion manifest both individually and collectively within the exploitive clique that can produce the downfalls that typically occur within the clique environment among it's members. The delusional state of ranking members within the hierarchy of various kinds of patriarchal organizations interferes with the efficiency of information flow up-channel from subordinates within the hierarchy, as anxiety inflation within the mass mind of the organization makes the organization function in "information constipated" fashion. Modern cultural pirates may be trying to remedy this inevitable mass schizophrenia with the introduction of pharmaceutical cocktails that are designed to enhance mass characterological denial among organizational subordinates by further distorting and devitalizing the human character structure in statistically predictable fashion. Traditional mass brain-washing, involving social isolation, mass anxiety stasis, covert and overt control of mass media and institution, and mass sexual repression ensures that all social processes fit a core pattern that reveals the nature of any exploitive agenda promoted by those who have gained the major economic leverage within the target socioeconomic system.

Intelligent movement of capital acts as the primary "foot in the door" for those who would desire exploitive gains (piracy). Land ownership, centralized political authority and suppression of natural experiential religion act as first lieutenants to "Captain Capitalist." This would be how the "Communist" nations hide their state-capitalist backsides, state capitalism being the marshal law of capitalism. The flexibility associated with controlling stable capital (gold as a centrally controlled substitute for love) enhances the security of those who sit at the top of the hierarchy, should the process of exploitation of the masses breakdown, as the "sitting duck" politicians, land owners and overt capitalists (those who own stock portfolios in their own names) lose their heads at the hand of an all to predictably behaving mob society. A disinformation system that functions as a socioeconomic interface requires a characterological momentum for statistically predictable masochism and compensating "craving for authority" in its subjects (human cattle), as well as a belief that ones' substitute sham freedom is real freedom.

Those who work to preserve human freedom and enhance human evolution, but who form semi-secret organizations in the interest of protecting advanced knowledge from disappearing from public access, must continually work to maintain their characterological health, as secrecy distorts human character. These organizations can become corrupt from within or from the infiltration of members from unhealthy organizations. Infiltrators can be identified by their tendencies to promote ideas that benefit hostile organizations by drawing negative public attention to the healthy organization (Weathermen). Often these infiltrators will attempt to splinter the original group and build one splinter group into a sham version of the original group in hopes of recruiting large numbers of artificial substitute idealists with underlying fascist tendencies, thus turning the substitute organization into the primary "voice" for the now idealistically diluted freedom movement. These fake idealists then begin to promote ideas that undermine freedom by promoting large scale dependence on centrally controlled welfare (they love taxes) and by undermining the constitutionally protected human-right to bear arms. Welfare becomes the substitute for freedom within the "Liberal" (conservative in disguise) camp. The use of terrorism and murder by fascist infiltrators reveals the source of infiltrating personnel, as police-state institutions benefit from these activities, while freedom movements never benefit. Why would a freedom movement involve itself in activities that benefit no one but the police arm of an emerging secret government. Healthy organizations typically involve themselves in activities that encourage the masses to build and then protect their freedom, as characterologically distorted masses have trouble maintaining their freedom, especially under the continual influence of the "disinformation system exhaust fumes" produced by exploitive organizations in the interest of tricking the masses into denying their own individual truths in favor of the less mysterious centrally controlled "truth." The agenda for America reveals itself in our foreign policy. The methods used by our government in the police-action in Vietnam have been written into Presidential Executive Order (43 concentration camps) for use in the near future against the population in our own country. FEMA (the largest known organization in the United States) has become America's Gestapo.

RE: The Implicate Order (Bohm) of the Unified Field, Archetypal Concentration and the Explicate Order of Holotropic (Grof) Experiential Manifestation

As part of our presently known physical universe, there pre-exists a primary vibrational carrier wave (Quantum Potential) and associated field (Unified Field), that contains the manifestational power and ex-is-tential momentum for all holotropically experienced physical manifestation. This implicate order has organizational characteristics analogist to that of holographic film information, only far more powerful and complex. Human awareness/will can act as a tunable interface with this primary field (Daath) and as a mutable implicate order to explicatively unfolding holotropic experiential realities. The loss of awareness of and controlling influence upon this process predestines the "fall" of wo/man from divine material plane reality creators to materialist drones. The Unified Field contains all potential physical explicate orders, that can be accessed from any location within our explicate universe. It just requires the meditational focus of attention and will in holotropic fashion to gain access to the Unified Field and unfold the desired reality. Explicate orders that contain continually unfolding manifestational momentum emerge as de-signed field patterns that remain rooted in sol fashion to Unified Field implicate order. This unfolding and enfolding momentum can be built or diminished by selectively focused holotropic will, as though the implicate order momentarily feeds manifestational existence, with holotropic will acting as a control valve for this explicative momentum. In order for the will to act in this fashion, it must be centered between implicate and explicate orders. Presently human collective awareness and corresponding will centers itself squarely within the physical explicate ordered universe at sub light speed awareness. If the holotropic will fails to contact beyond light speed implicate order, it cannot control destiny efficiently in regards explicate manifestation. Explicate order unfolds in seemingly "chaotic" fashion, leaving the human implicate/explicate order confused and amazed if SHe has any awareness of this process at all.

Traditionally, physical alchemical disciplines make use of these principles even if only subconsciously to levitate objects and cause the manifestation of physical objects out of "thin air." The unfolding momentum maintained by collective human consciousness on this planet interferes with the conscious awareness of and influence upon the unfolding of explicate physical order and makes it difficult to build the unfolding momentum between quantum-nonlocal implicate order and physical-local explicate order. Single practitioners must spend much time and energy in visionary meditation to gain accurate insight and produce consistent results. ~~Group meditation can increase the probability of success exponentially.~~

Those who become adept in these disciplines typically conquer fear in life, fear being an illusion created through ignorance. Fear interferes with the natural processes associated with these practices. "Fear of God" alienates one from "God." Awareness of Goddess integrates with and complements the awareness of God. Patriarchal substitute civilization works to destroy awareness of the Unified Field and Quantum Potential by destroying awareness of the feminine polarity which acts as the energy web (field) that has been fashioned from the masculine carrier wave energy. Any ability to influence physical explicate order by way of nonlocal quantum manipulation "traditionally" gets labeled as "witch craft" and the practitioner suffers the "traditional" punishment of torture and death. Competence in controlling the nature of explicate order makes one virtually unexploitable by those who maintain themselves as power brokers. You cannot easily be threatened or injured if you can alter physical reality or have a superior source of intelligence. Monopolization of knowledge and resources by the power elite can be easily remedied. Gold can be made to counter the monopolization of this resource by centralized banking monopolies (Fed), thus keeping gold prices reasonable and gold readily available for cultural use. Genetically engineered diseases can be cured with the mind, as intelligent unified field manipulation on a subconscious level controls the DNA and RNA anyway, thus conscious control of the Unified Field can cure cancer. Chemical weaponry can be neutralized instantly. Fear itself becomes nothing to fear if it becomes more predictable and controllable, fear and doubt being frames of mind that neutralize the relationship the human will shares with the enfolded implicate order and unfolding explicate order. Fear blocks and distorts the manifestational flow on many existential levels of reality.

The past and future can be accessed by accessing nonlocal implicate order. The Unified Field can be used to travel to any location (past, present or future) by experientially unfolding the desired implicate order and experiencing the explicate order. The understanding of historical and psycho-socioeconomic process can be enhanced to the point of subverting any developing totalitarian outbreak and enhancing directional control of "destiny" individually. The eradication of anxiety stasis eradicates rage and depression (builders of emotional plague outbreaks). Ecstasy becomes the primary building block of individual evolution and living social process. Self knowledge becomes the foundation of social process.

Utopia (the archetype of the collection of all of our natural vital impulses expressing themselves freely on a social scale) cannot be measured out and distributed from a detached and centralized authoritarian bureaucracy as substitute "Utopia," without denying individual experience of real utopia as ecstasy. Police power cannot "form" a utopia. When you mechanically "de-fine" it and "enforce" it for everyone from an "external to individual experience" perspective, you kill it. A healthy citizen in a free republic need only be oneself and respect others' rights to do the same. A "good" citizen in a totalitarian "utopia" becomes a killing machine with a substitute personality as a coat of armor and source of rationalization for murder.

The birth-rights of psychometry, bilocation, translocation, remote viewing, etheric and astral projection, physical alchemy, Unified Field driven technology, psychic archeology, fire walking, limb regeneration, life extension, intelligence increase, ecstatic experience, spontaneous healing, past life regression, future life progression and self guided evolution can become common tools for enhancing human evolution on Earth as they are removed from exclusive centralized authoritarian control and allowed to develop naturally and freely in the public sphere in decentralized fashion, thus guaranteeing that this knowledge cannot be used to abuse and distort collective human evolution and bring about the death and destruction of our Earth mother.

RE: The Character Neurosis of Hidden Patriarchy Expressed in Organizational Symbol

The emotionally plagued character neurotic behaves in the fashion of a secret organization on two legs whether he knows this or not. He maintains an inner conspiracy among the component parts of his highly armor encapsulated individual bioenergetic system, his heart driven sexual energy being the prize that has been pirated and put to exploitive use. This energy must first be distorted through repression, then reissued as the rapacious substitute vitality of rage and depression. A sanitized exterior then becomes a must and helps divert attention away from the painful interior horror. When executed in "just right" fashion you will have a pirate ship on two legs with the words "dupe" stamped on it's ass. When these cyborg types organize in mass, you then have a controllable mob with a centralized authority figure as the central nervous system of the mob organism. Cyborg citizens who like to play in their distorted energies and who have not bothered to look any deeper within themselves find that they can be more cunning than most of their fellow cattle, who prefer to live in the substitute ecstasy of denial. They realize that their brothers can be easily exploited and fooled into believing that the pirate before them has the same motivation in life as themselves.

Fortunately their superior cunning does not make them the smartest of all of the cattle. There remain those cattle who realize that they are probably human and who venture into their interior experiential regions to learn of the nature of cosmic, lunar and earth energy relationships and who attempt to teach others the same basic methods they used to experientially find their own true selves for themselves. The pirate cattle, who notice this process at work before the common cattle do, murder the human "freaks" and label them as criminals. Any human advancements championed by the dead humans quickly become the co-opted "intellectual proper-ty" of the pirate cattle, to be used for secret exploitive purposes as the common cattle receive pale substitute advancements for egotistical consumption. As the common mob cattle prance around in their cow bells with kitchen sinks, the pirate cattle attempt to make exploitive use of the new idea or kill it if they can't. The basic process behind showing the innocent stance and moving in for the kill when the victim shows vulnerability becomes their standard operating procedure, based in shared characterological disease symptomatology.

This knowledge typically gets recorded symbolically and sometimes expressed in graffiti fashion. The symbology associated with this process holds secret knowledge and the basic procedure for its use, the Jolly Roger being a good example. Skeletons symbolize the foundational energy of the cosmos and the crossed bones symbolize the formation of this energy into the Unified Field. The skull represents knowledge of this energy as mathematical and/or operational discipline. The black background symbolizes the process of maintaining secrecy, which involves building the "valley of Death/Darkness" in the mass psychic visionary field of the exploited cattle through repression, poisoning or execution. This symbol can be superimposed over the tree symbol of the Kabbalah with the crossing point of the bones at the Daath Sephiroth, which makes the skull-and-bones symbol a map describing the poisoning of man, earth and cosmos and the counter cathexis of all cosmic vibrational expressions, later to be harvested as rage and depression vibration (brainwashing has been a lucrative business). Repression stored in muscular armoring at the Daath point on the human bioenergetic system at the base of the back of the skull acts as a foundation point for the overall muscular armoring which makes us become stupid and unhappy.

These "pirate cattle" build front-organizations in the form of "religious" movements and nations which provide income for their banking houses. Gold, which replaces love as the fuel that drives economic systems taken over by the pirate cattle, becomes the link which makes economic systems around the globe controllable through centralized economic power brokerage. The common cattle have limited access to substitute (paper) capital which gives them nothing more than permission to live for a while longer. The US flag may have been originally designed to be a pirate symbol. Stars symbolize the foundation of inner individuality which is unified naturally in a star system with the cosmic energy reservoir symbolized by the blue backdrop. The star field resides in the upper left hand or pillar of severity side of the flag which denotes secret ownership of the reality symbolized by the star field, as no symbol balances the star field on the pillar of mercy side of the flag. The red of rage symbolically divides the white of vitality in the flag, thus keeping the ideal of free national expression of free individuals out of experiential reach. The Nazi Party flag has as similar meaning. The backwards spinning black swastika, which represents sexual and emotional repression, blocks free expression of the white sphere which represents all cosmic energetic frequencies, the result being rage (red background), which can be used to maintain repression among the population through terror. The seals of Scottish Rite Free Masonry and the CIA also symbolize repressive secrecy. The guillotine which may be of Masonic origin can be symbolically superimposed over the tree of the Kabbalah and represents the maintenance of secrecy through the terror of execution. The blade cuts right through the Daath point of the victim who faces the ground he failed to recognize as the only reality that he may access under secret masonic rule, all other experiential realities having become the exclusive property of the same.

RE: A Constitution Of A True Republic Promotes Health Among The Masses By Promoting Individual Liberty

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

National sovereignty should be built upon the foundation stone of self sovereignty, the glue that legally holds our nation together being the Constitution and Bill of Rights of the United States (even if the Free Masons who created our republic "for us" only did so with the long term intention of destroying the idea of a free democratic republic). All laws that contradict or undermine the Constitution cannot be legally enforced. When on jury duty every citizen has the right to judge any law as unconstitutional. Jury selection by the Judge or prosecution in the interest of undermining the constitutionally protected rights of the defendant by nullifying the constitution and by "weeding out" constitutionally minded people from jury duty should be strictly prohibited as a crime similar in nature to murder by an enlightened freedom minded public. The jury has the right to judge both the law and the facts of a case.

If the majority culture undermines the constitutional rights of minority cultures, the majority allows for the possibility of the destruction of those same rights for their own posterity, as the state apparatus becomes more powerful than and isolated from a divided public. Those who control the state apparatus control the nation. The imposition of fear becomes the means for maintaining law and order, every resource available being employed to maintain this anxiety stasis in the mass character structure. The methods used to build this fear contradict the rights protected by our Constitution. Freedom promotes healing in the mass psyche by reducing mass characterological tension. Safeguarded freedoms promote domestic tranquility. The population of this country has an unalienable right to dismantle the federal, state and local governments of this nation in order to defend social and individual liberty, a Republican (not the party) Constitution being an agreement among the masses that can be broken legally only by the masses, but remember that the rights protected by law exist without the law and can be protected without the law. Having a Constitution and Bill of Rights can be used as a tool by an enlightened public to maintain domestic tranquility while allowing for a full-range life experience and evolutionary process for individuals within a free society, society being the living entity that results from social interaction between individuals and groups within the population. A free society requires free social interaction among free individuals. The Constitution allows for police force to be used only when an unalienable human-right has been violated. Police force should not be allowed in matters of cultural maintenance. This undermines the constitutionally protected rights that build our freedom. Excessive state/police powers ultimately separate the masses from the experience of liberty and constitutional law and order, police-state law and order being constitutionally illegal law and order. The masses have an unalienable right to dismantle a police-state. The masses also have the right to maintain the means necessary to control any state apparatus. The individual has the unalienable right to engage in activities that undermine police-state sovereignty. Social liberty requires individual liberty. The police-state draws its power from mob rule. We can blame only our own hypocrisy for our slavery. The mob ruled police-state draws its power from individual and mass anxiety stasis, mass characterological contactlessness, mass tunnel vision, compulsive social division, punishment, rule conditional reward, compulsive hierarchy, centralized control of natural resources, genocide, state-approved religion (B. A.T.F.), state-centered military (palace guard, D.O.D.), sexual controls and repression, paramilitary intimidation (C.I.A.), power elite or state-controlled media (F.C.C), destruction of privacy, secret weapons research (the C.I.A.'s "high leverage technology"), crowd control, mind control ("War on Drugs"), secret non-consensual human experimentation (check out New Mexico's per capita child abduction ranking history), centralized banking (Fed, international banks), book burning (Wilhelm Reich), state-controlled science (FDA/AMA), state-controlled education, state-dominated judicial system, capital punishment, torture, poor mass and individual self esteem (Super Bowl), censorship, foreign and domestic psychological warfare, and compulsive patriarchal family based population proliferation and conditioning ("spare the rod-spoil the child"). The nature of a republic takes root in the concept of public control of the state apparatus through democratic process for the protection of public and individual self interest. This does not mean that the majority of the public has the right to enforce their definition of public self interest as the only lawful definition, public self interest being the sum of all self interests of all public sectors. The sum of public self interest includes the self interests of the minority groups and individuals. A republic may be allowed to exist by public vote for the protection of public self interest from the imposition of the agenda of a majority, minority or individual over the self interest of the public as a sum of the self interests of majorities, minorities and individuals. A constitution defining a democratic republic acts as an agreement among all individuals to protect the rights of all individuals to exist freely and independently of the tyranny of any one group or individual agenda, tyranny being the imposition of the rule of one sector of the public over all or any others. The public should then maintain its responsibility for the protection of the inalienable rights of all sectors of the public through a constitutionally defined state apparatus and through group and individual initiative as per the agreements defined in the constitution of the republic. Any inalienable right of any individual temporarily suspended by the state apparatus must be done in accordance with constitutional agreements designed to protect public self interest by protecting all individual self sovereignty. Any punishment inflicted upon any segment of the public breaches constitutional contract with public self interest. A state apparatus that has been allowed to inflict punishment and undermine public self interest becomes null and void and should be subject to prosecution by the public in the interest of public welfare. Inalienable rights can only be held back from an individual if that individual violates the rights of others. All people (including human rights violators) have the inalienable right to life process, healing opportunity and individuation protected by an enlightened constitution. The holding back of inalienable rights should never be allowed to become punitive or more excessive than necessary for life protection, as this can become a weapon, used to intimidate the public from protecting its own rights. A republic can only protect rights. Any other process that begins to grow like cancer within our government should be immediately excised by an enlightened population. Groups that do not want the constitution or related socioeconomic system have a right not to have it, while still maintaining their own freedom, meaning "Indian" Reservations (concentration camps) violate human rights.

RE: 21st Century Population/Mind Control Methods of the Supranational Power Elite (Illuminati), Establishing a Controllable Technological Hierarchy and Corresponding Socioeconomic Class Stratification (Modern Info-Feudalist War Economy)

A. Power Elite Control Agency level (Unified Field Tech/Underground and Moon Based)

B. FEMA/CIA level (Highest Conventional Tech/Secure Compound Based)

C. DOD police/military level (Medium Conventional Tech/Mobile Military)

D. Human Cyborg Cattle (Electromagnetically and Chemically Pacified Slave Class)

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

Population pacification requires highly advanced knowledge of the nature of human consciousness at a sol, holotropic, genetic, neurological and characterological level. Each level in this hierarchal scheme, relating to human consciousness, requires the application of specific mind control methods that make use of traditional brain washing (isolation/terrorization/forced dependancy/ indoctrination/sexual-social sublimation) supplemented with drug and electromagnetically induced mind pacification, some common mind control drugs being heroin, nicotine, alcohol, caffeine, aspartame, tranquilizer/antidepressant cocktails and food additives. White table salt (originally concocted for explosives manufacture) and lowered food nutritional levels will help contribute to the bodily chemical balance required for social stupification and pacification, as will fluoride. Microwave technology (obsolete) will interfere with neurological function in the 800 to 2000 megahertz range. If executed in small steps over a period of decades the social slide into a totalitarian federal police-state will not be noticed by the majority of the population. Those who do notice can be discredited now and purged later.

The implementation of most of these methods would to be carried out by the father/mother units within the latest version of the traditional patriarchal family unit which remains the most convenient vehicle for state-use in repressing natural drives in the individual during the youth phase of human development, and the second lowest organizational echelon within the patriarchal socioeconomic system. Family units will be controlled by federal police units. Intimidation through surveillance will be conducted by elite paramilitary intelligence units that answer directly to top level hidden government bureaucratic rule (home arrests usually happen between midnight and six in the morning). All social movements will be statistically predictable and tracked by the central Battle Engagement Area Simulator Tracker computer network/data base (B.E.A.S.T.). Electrogravitic (Unified Field)Technology will be the Info/techno/industrial base used by the highest ranking and most secret police force in the world. Strategically this police force centers itself most strongly in the desert and mountainous areas, in the western region of the United States, the Swiss Alps and the Lop Nor Desert. Underground tunnels (600 mph trains) connect the under ground bases. An Electrogravitic Propulsion System can be used to propel a "flying saucer," power a disk shaped antenna for Unified Field communication and mind amplification, and be used as a highly sensitive receiver for monitoring life functions and telephone lines from a distance. The strategic placement and tactical use of this technology will take a form similar to the genocidal "police-action" (air cav.) used by the C.I.A. in Vietnam. Careful steps will be taken to correct the strategic blunders that occurred in that C.I.A. contrived business war (5000 choppers lost). Care will also have to be taken not to allow this technology to be captured by resistance movements (the ether drive system shuts off to allow personnel and equipment to exit the craft). These elite units (Fed Cav) would be equipped with the latest crowd pacification technology, assuring devastating kill ratios. These units will probably operate from a few highly secure bases (lack of cleared personnel). This means the population must be disarmed and pacified before these forces deploy openly.

SOME RECOMMENDED SOLUTIONS:

- A. Every citizen should read and understand The Constitution and Bill of Rights of The United States of America. Find where our Free Mason (Illuminati dupe) "founding fathers" compromised the document to allow for the later undermining of liberty (New Rome?).
- B. Every person must be allowed complete control of his or her own neurological/characterological makeup and evolutionary path (please don't brainwash your kids). Income Tax acts as a primary "foot in the door" for future fascist rule.
- C. Repeal all prohibition style ("War on Drugs") laws as well as most other laws.
- D. Read the works of Thomas Paine, Martin Luther King and Ghandi and study the "sixties" freedom movement).
- E. Keep a cache of Celtic Sea Salt on hand (800-TOP-SALT) and stop using white iodized table salt (a poison). Eat fresh organically grown produce. Fluoride was used to poison rats.
- F. Destroy the power elite's control by outlawing the C.I.A., removing The Fed from power within our government, not joining the police, Guardian Angels (future neighborhood spies) or military, and by building a natural modern (experientially advanced) republic.
- G. Research, read and think for yourself. Respect others' rights to do the same. Question authority (Leary). Love to become love.
- H. A jury has the right to judge both the law and the facts of a court case.
- I. Make electrogravitic technology publicly available for transportation, communication and energy production (please don't take weapons into outer space).
- J. Bring compassion into our world and don't take hatred into outer space. The moon may already have been violated. NASA refuses to aim Hubble in that direction.
- K. Peaceful resistance on a massive scale may be the only way we can guarantee the protection of human rights and evolution at the same time. As Ghandi stated "100 thousand Englishmen cannot control 300 million Indians if those Indians will not cooperate." Peaceful resistance should be organized for all violations of human, animal and Earth rights. When any government tries to take control of the people, the people should peacefully seize all government assets. Bombers cannot operate without runways (D. I. A. could break our collective back if B2 bombers operate from there), fuel and bombs. Tanks have to run out of fuel and rounds. Soldiers have to have a conscience beneath their flak jackets or they would not be alive. America can potentially inspire the world to resist peacefully if we shake off the tradition of hidden government within our own borders (a large percentage foreign youth behave more like real Americans than any American alive outside of an Indian Reservation).
- L. If you behave as a victim, you become a victim.

RE: Cleaning Out The Puss

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

A plague develops in the southwestern region of the United States that threatens liberty worldwide, a fascist army buried in underground bases and linked with D. O. D. black budget research facilities by underground rail (also to D. I. A. ). They equip themselves with the latest crowd/mind control weaponry, establishing a beachhead as the palace guard of the power elite in America, an elite secret-police force. In the military/police hierarchy in America, they fit in as the force that can control the more overt military/intelligence/police organizations without their knowledge. They can track anyone via orbital computer data base/tracker networks or via Unified Field or Quantum Field driven flying saucers. They can deploy the most secret nonlethal crowd control weaponry (electromagnetic pulse, high intensity light) without detection, anywhere in the world. These units practice the most modern methods of genocidal population pacification. Covertly gained knowledge of human psychology that would not be allowed to be researched in the public sector (non-consensual research) gets utilized by psychological warfare units. These police units maintain a carefully compartmentalized (specialized) psychological and sociological conceptual framework within which to practice mind control. They maintain frames of reference (extreme behaviorism) that allow advanced psychwar methods to work with devastating effectiveness while keeping the practitioners ignorant of the natural direction of natural human destiny. These "high leverage" personnel get recruited based upon their character structural makeup and controllability. The leaders within this establishment embody a warped substitute ideology and work to remain experientially far removed from deep motivational impulse, being reactionary to an extreme. They think of themselves as a personification of "God's Law." The technicians within the organization, also far removed from awareness of their deepest impulse, do not work from such an extremely ideological egotistical stance, but instead embody the masochistic ideal of "live to follow orders." They may be highly intelligent in the tunnel-vision slanted "I.Q." sense of the word but remain stupefied otherwise, being hand picked for their psychological momentum to harmonize with ideological substitute realities that replace deep experiential realities without being aware of the process. Reality in a core sense inspires fear in these people as being "irrational" or "weird." Psychologically these people behave as shaped explosive charges that destroy "the enemy" when ordered, without question. They allow themselves to be extremely violent when given orders, but in a chaotic situation they become worms on a sidewalk, the under ground bases being the predictable environments from which they can "shoot from ambush." They have been testing the basic methodology for modern genocidal conflict, the "police-action" in Vietnam being an initial test. The methods used against the so-called Vietcong have a creepy similarity to the basic methods written into executive order for use against us all. For allowing such a genocidal machine to exist and to hurt others we may be forced to destroy it as it chews up our collective ass. We will then have no choice but to understand our mass psychological sickness. How much bomb tonnage will rain down upon us as it has rained upon others. Think of the "technology" that was displayed in Iraq. Do you think that air delivered weapons that can guarantee kill ratios of nearly ten thousand to one were developed to "build peace?" This

"peace" smells like the "peace" of a police-state that emerges from under a rock to become a "New World Order." Imagine seeing your city flattened by 2000lb bombs, watching the devastated survivors further devastated by cluster bombs and helicopter gun ships, as the infantry/police fly in to "sweep and clear" your town. You get captured and your captors discover that you have scars or a large supply of food in your house. They field interrogate you and fly you to a "secure" location, where you wake up from having been beaten unconscious, in isolation, in a room with bright flourescent lights (that remain on) and under 24 hour-a-day camera surveillance. You lose sense of time because you have no access to a watch or sunlight and they keep you from developing any personal routines with unpredictable interrogation and beating at all hours, your psychological characterology being carefully studied under these stressful circumstances. You then come under interrogation in such a manner as to guarantee results, only to be taken to a gas chamber with other unpredictable factors and processed and disposed-of in an electric oven. These basic methods used by fascists the world over reveal a common disease (emotional plague) at work in the collective group mind of fascism all over the planet, whether in Nazi Germany, Red China or Masonic USA. They all basically think along these lines. If "they" have dug themselves in and possess an isolated technological base that operates a complete evolutionary step beyond our own, we may abruptly find ourselves dipped upside down in some lethal shit.

SOME RECOMMENDED SOLUTIONS:

- A. Dismantle the DOD, FEMA, NSC and CIA, and take complete control of all military assets.
- B. Remove all corrupt (Federal Reserve Etc.) Influences from our government and work to dismantle the United Nations.
- C. Work to keep government to a minimum, including world government.
- D. Instead of making the people of the world dependant upon us, help them to feed themselves. If aid need be given, there should be no ideological strings attached.
- E. Make paramilitary and psychological warfare activity illegal.
- F. Make wars improbable by dismantling war-for-profit civilization here, so other nations can draw inspiration to do the same.
- G. Surround and begin selective dismantle operations of all underground facilities formerly operated by the DOD and secret world government.
- H. Distribute formerly hidden technologies to the public for cultural absorption.
- I. Travel to all Moon or Mars bases to remove all weapons and transform these bases into space ports for cultural use.
- J. Begin systematic exploration (not exploitation) of the Solar System.
- K. Overhaul the national bureaucratic and economic infrastructure to reduce the likelihood of power and resource monopolization and planetary exploitation.
- L. Begin to heal all characterological distortions that remain within yourself, so as to avoid contributing to any future fascist rule. Centralized bureaucratic rule demands masochistic denial of personal power and projection of that power upon a central authority figure.

RE: America, The Genocidal Prison System

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

Presently one in every two hundred citizens in America resides in a jail or prison, with one in twenty-five African-American males imprisoned. One in five African-American males live under some judicial control in America. These figures represent the highest imprisonment rate in the world, exceeding that of South Africa during apartheid. How can this be the case in a country that claims bragging-rights for being "the land of the free?" It seems that the definition of "freedom" that exists socially in America reveals itself to be the "freedom" of an emotionally plagued "christian" who can only feel free when SHE controls the socioeconomic environment and forces it to match his or her own tunnel vision reality. "Freedom" in this kind of mob "society" can then be experienced only by those who have been brainwashed to share the same view point as the social engineers that maintain a strangle hold on the collective American psyche. Everyone who does not have christian tunnel vision syndrome then becomes part of a class stratification of "criminals." It can be argued that we become part of this class structure when we are born, the only people in America who escape this fate being upper-middle class or rich "white" males whose genitals have been properly mutilated (circumcision). Everyone else becomes "suspect" according to how they differ from our national patriarchal archetype for a "good citizen." Any "white" man who rejects this outlook may find himself in the basement levels of America the prison system (Leary) along with the cultural "criminals" (political activists) of the various oppressed American minority groups. Groups that have been and remain targets for the tradition of genocide in America suffer the tightest security measure designed to destroy life and freedom. Those who have the courage to confront their aggressors find themselves in the same cell blocks as those who have murdered and raped. They suffer cruel punishment in a prison system that continues to grow in its technological sophistication in torturing inmates, the newest prisons worldwide being designed to dehumanize inmates using isolation, torture and brainwashing. It seems that the citizen prototype used to "mold" the population must also be inhuman. Why else should inhumane brainwashing be utilized to "mold" prisoners. Mere vengeance only serves to reinforce the murderous streak within the American social "tradition." How could we possibly expect the threat of punishment to deter violent behavior when punishment (a form of violence) has been used to mold the mass character structure in America? It seems America the "correctional" system roots itself at the family level. The dehumanization that plagues us starts with isolation, punishment, dependence-based threat and sexual repression in the home. This same system operates in prison to further distort the psyches of those who were imprisoned because of some distortion of the psyche . . . what an interesting "coincidence." The same general methods used at home to make us "crazy on demand" make prisoners "obedient." Verbal abuse, beatings, isolation and supervised peer violence remain as the primary "tools of the trade" for social engineering. We keep following a path that has been traveled to excess before. The end result has always been war. Whether revolution or world war, the "bad guys" usually end up being the ones who allowed themselves to become a correctional system society, Nazi Germany, Imperial France (French Revolution), Czarist Russia, South Vietnam and Colonial America being examples of police societies that have been overthrown by war. Modern America seems to be sliding down the same slippery slope. We have become imperialist, genocidal, hypocritical, nationalistic, fascist and emotionally blunted. Everything that happened in Nazi Germany seems to be happening in America. We have begun consideration for the death penalty for owning more than a few pounds of taboo herb, a substance that was unconstitutionally outlawed because of Christian-capitalist greed inspired stereotyping. How long will it be before people suffer murder because of their hair style or lack of "robust" health? America as Murder has become the bottom line in both domestic and foreign policy. It's what happens when our capitalist owned government projects it's influence into counties like Guatemala and Vietnam. Why should it surprise us when this same out of control government begins mass-producing murder within our own borders. Our government behaves as a projection of who we have become collectively. We've become sick animals who kill their own species as no other animal does. We have become an abomination of nature and the more we preach peace, the more we kill and torture. We've become police-men with sharp clean exteriors. Underneath these polished surfaces lay the ultimate threat to natural security, this threat being genocidal torture and murder. As we torture others so shall we distort our own natures until nothing beautiful can be seen. The polished face of "moral" society can so easily disintegrate to reveal the sadistic reality of our "culture" and "breeding." No real beauty can find the light of day. We force ourselves to fear what is best within us, real love and sexuality becoming the biggest threat to "national security," with creative hands being cut off and "bleeding hearts" cut out . . . open minds blasted away and open eyes poked out. How much will be sacrificed to preserve Judeo-Christian "heritage" which only seems to reveal itself as some leftover remnant of covert Roman bureaucratic influence that keeps trying to turn Emperor Constantine's dream of a revitalized Roman Empire into manifest destine reality, which acts as a cancerous growth emerging from the bloated carcass of an experientially dead religion.

SOME RECOMMENDED SOLUTIONS:

A. Minimize as much as possible police presence within our society. Police should only deal with real crime as defined by The Constitution of the United States. They should not be social engineering tools.

B. Our judicial system should not involve itself with "punishment" as "justice." It should only be utilized to protect human rights. Prisons should be humane living environments for criminals that have been proven to be dangerous to life under the Constitution. Punishment builds the dis-ease of violence and fascism.

C. Watch for covert influence on social process. The C. I. A. has probably designed most of these new drugs that circulate, via gang influence, in economically impoverished neighborhoods. Unconstitutional drug laws can then be utilized to incarcerate large percentages of target populations who have been "ghettoed" by Masonic "white bread" economic influence.

RE: Monopoly Capitalism and State Capitalism, The Same Socioeconomic Disease, Existing Under Different Conspiratorially Manipulated Socioeconomic Conditions

"Communism" reveals itself to be the capitalist marshal law of State Capitalism, instead of being a national expression of communal life, communal living being a natural process that exists regardless of bureaucratic influence. When two college students become roommates to reduce expenses, they express communal behavior. These natural behavioral patterns were the common law of natural law worldwide until patriarchal "civilization" began seizing control of matriarchal and aboriginal society six thousand years ago, the primary economic expression of patriarchal civilization being monopoly capitalism whether it be feudal, financial or industrial. Profit mongering, a behavior that is not considered to be honest by natural earth people (almost extinct), militantly displaces free trade is equal trade, Capitalism being "free trade" that does not operate freely. Capitalist "trade" only finds acceptance among the brainwashed and sexually repressed masses living under military rule, an artificial lack of abundance being maintained by police force for the majority of the population to maximize mass anxiety stasis and profit margin. Any governing apparatus maintained by the public becomes the stolen property of the capitalists, so as to keep the population from consolidating power, or the capitalists themselves become the governing apparatus when it suites their needs (State Capitalism). Hidden capitalist conspiracies subvert revolution by creating revolutionary facade movements with controllable intermediary contacts as "leaders." This intermediary then transforms the revolutionary facade into a specific form of totalitarianism which acts as a substitute for whatever the revolutionary ideal was. If an ideal like "communism" in Russia or "Democracy" in the West takes root in the mass mind, these ideals become targets for systematic ir-radication by use of covert and overt mass mind poisoning and murder. These puppet "leaders" then become manipulators of the masses all the while they preach "freedom", "revolution" or "progress," this being State Capitalism in full bloom (the anti-bloom), the U.S.S.R. and China being examples of State Capitalism while the western super powers presently remain examples of financial and industrial monopoly capitalism. During the Vietnam War, the U. S. purchased war materials from "the enemy" in the form of Magnesium from the U.S.S.R., Steel from China and Concrete from North Vietnam while posing as fighters of the "Communist Menace." This "posing" cost 58,000 American lives and millions of Southeast Asian lives. The "leaders" of both sides knew that "communism" acted as a farcical demon in the traditionally Christian use of the word, meaning scapegoat rationalization for gaining covert political influence upon this region of the world, that still held some of the "pagan" beauty of communal life (jewel of the orient). Communal life only exists where there remains free trade among equals, as naturally occurs among aboriginal populations. Free (fully consensual) trade of ideas and goods should be two primary goals for any progressive earth citizen or living society.

The health gained among the masses from lack of fear of starvation or police brutality should guarantee that humanity will no longer be parasitic to the earth . . . after all, the relationships shared with each other mirror themselves in the relationships we share with the earth. Eventually the conspiratorial capitalists bring about the destruction of both the real revolution and the artificial revolutionary face of state capitalist bureaucracy. The real revolution, of course, never completely disappears, as its root system merges the deepest vital impulse of the people. The charade maintained by the state capitalist dictators naturally collapses due to bureaucratic dead weight. The transfer of power can be disguised as a coup, so as to keep the standard operating procedures of the capitalist conspiracy secret. Monopoly trade can then be substituted for dictatorial distribution and then referred to as the restoration of "free trade." The fat cats then begin their monopoly foreplay that culminates in the capitalist orgasm of war. The disease called neurosis, that has been and remains prevalent among the brainwashed masses ensures that political power can be centralized and monopolized, it being assumed by lower ranking dupes that if the capitalists were oppressed the masses would immediately revert to communal living. The brainwashed masses continue to behave as oppressed machines and quickly sacrifice their freedom in exchange for a little "security." This pattern reveals itself in the French Revolution and repeats itself in America as the American Revolution dies a slower but carefully designed death, our founding fathers having been forced by popular demand (Thomas Paine's philosophy) to introduce some limitations upon centralized bureaucratic control into the Constitution. It has been a long and expensive process to undermine our American Dream, but it may pay off at last. Americans today have become as dumb as they have ever been and poise themselves for a technocratic feudalist take over which could result in a "New World Order" that takes root in extreme fascism. Our minds remain narrow and dull, our bodies as poisoned as our oceans. We totally accept what has been displayed for us on tele-vision as "reality." We kill when ordered, without questioning motive. We think of ourselves as "advanced" though technologically we live, for the most part, in the nineteenth century (or the "seventies"), while twentieth century technology remains a capitalist conspiratorially controlled secret.

SOME RECOMMENDED SOLUTIONS:

- A. Question authority and think for yourself (Leary).
- B. Practice the art of molding the economy by controlling your trade habits.
- C. Increase your intelligence and your compassion.
- D. Live to reduce the cost efficiency of the bureaucratic police cancer.
- E. Don't do business with banks that create money from nothing (Fed) and charge your government (which should belong to you) interest. Create communal non-interest banks.
- F. Resist the "final takeover" by not cooperating with "authorities" when it happens.
- G. Quit watching the "Police Chase" shows that have been designed to brainwash people into cooperating with authorities no matter what happens.
- H. Dismantle F. E. M. A. and its concentration camp system before it goes into full operation.
- I. Dismantle the F. C. C. so mass media can become a free public domain.
- J. Create communal schools and keep government and industry away from them.
- K. Don't allow your city to build international "airports" 40 miles away from town, with underground tunneling that leads to the local mountain range (D. I. A. looks like a swastika when viewed from the air).

RE: The Problem of Domesticated Primate Syndrome (Robert Anton Wilson)

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

Patriarchal Civilization establishes itself among the masses by suppressing the higher human functions of the "new brain" or Cerebral Cortex. This suppression of capacity for logical problem solving and advanced multifaceted emotional expression and sensitivity has e-merged as a result of anxiety stasis, anxiety-stasis being an orgonomic condition that results when biological energies have been blocked and partially absorbed by muscular tensions (armoring) that originate during early childhood development. The Freudian counter cathexis, produced by the continual holding back of natural impulses and responses that have become unacceptable within the patriarchal family unit, provides the primary building blocks for a substitute personality that conceals the stratification of reactionary perversions and natural core impulses of the human organism forced to live in a state of continual fear within a family based model of fascist civilization. All animal and human impulses come under the influence of this process. This process has a simplifying effect upon the range of life expressions and sensitivities expressed and experienced by the organism in question. The simpler impulses and responses associated with the amphibian/reptilian central nervous system, as well as the more social (pack) impulses and responses expressed through the mammalian central nervous system become distorted into a more limited array of enraged and depressive behavioral patterns, with core impulses rarely expressing themselves in their natural forms. The much more vast and complex natural human impulses and responses, channeled by the newer cerebral cortex can be almost completely blocked or simplified to resemble machine-like behavior, the result being a domesticated primate with somewhat more advanced mimicking capabilities than our wild cousins.

"Civilized" man attempts to compensate for this rather severe state of affairs by compulsively maintaining a sham culture (usually at gunpoint), with a fairly complex array of specialized occupations designed into a machine-like economic system, that mirrors in its structure and function qualities valued by the majority of cyborg-like character structures prevalent among the domesticated primates within the civilization. This socioeconomic system resembles the pecking-order found among wild mammals. As the efficiency of a simply designed cyborg character structure in hiding complex human and animal expressions doesn't even come close to 100%, there will always be those "who don't fit in." Geniuses, who may just be people who have found a way to express deep human impulse (real culture) come under anxious scrutiny and become carefully pigeonholed into a specialized position within an appropriate pseudo-cultural bureaucracy, their work then being funneled into the civilization without upsetting the status quo. People whose character structures break down under the pressure of "adjusting" to "societies' demands" (schizophrenics) become prisoners.

Anyone threatening to upset the apple cart can easily be disposed of in accordance with compulsively defined procedure (law). Problem solving upsets the apple cart, so problem solvers get punished very severely, as they threaten the status of the alpha-males who run the show. Alpha-males typically cannot solve most problems. They deal with problems with denial first, then mammalian blustering, fuming and screaming second. When all else fails, all who

"they" perceive to be part of the problem and those who hold a potential solution get eliminated in murderous genocidal fashion. Among domesticated primate alpha-males (Hitler, Stalin, Nixon, Reagan, etc.), excuses and scapegoats that seem plausible to cyborg society get chosen and displayed to account for failed attempts to eliminate the "abnormal" influences upon "civilization." Often, another civilization, with which the alpha males want to engage in territorial combat, becomes the scapegoat. The state of social anxiety that pervades the everyday experience within say Red China or Nazi Germany feeds back into the mass character structure of the population. In the past conditions would reach a critical-mass and explode into a blood-bath that would result in new "leadership." Naturally, those who want to remain "in charge" protect their roles. The latest "socially acceptable" dope produced by pharmaceutical monopolies and controlled by the alpha males of an invisible patriarchal conspiratorial order may drown out of manifestation core vital impulses within the human organism enough to astronomically increase the probability of creating the ultimate cyborg civilization with single alpha-male "leadership" dynasties lasting thousands of years.

SOME RECOMMENDED SOLUTIONS:

Since large doses of LSD (300 to 500 micrograms) presently remain unavailable, more labor intensive disciplines can be used to metaprogram our own biocomputers and erase the holotropic programming enforced by compulsive society, allowing free society to emerge organically.

A. The Holotropic Breathing exercises developed by Dr. Stanislav Grof can bring about experiences, similar in nature, to the therapeutic "acid" experiences also researched by Grof and others. Therapy groups can be organized that have been patterned after those described in "The Holotropic Mind" by Stanislav Grof, M. D. .

B. Marijuana has therapeutic effects that can reduce the emotional armoring that plagues civilized humanity, thus making people smarter, not dumber. Much of the rationalization for unconstitutionally outlawing marijuana use stems from the "Christian" fear of ecstatic experience and experiential religious discipline associated with natural human life styles that have been genocidally eliminated by Patriarchal civilization, the relaxed state associated with getting "high" being stereotyped as stupidity and irresponsibility by those who mistake re-action ability for re-sponsibility. Relaxation enhances intelligence and allows deep responsibility to emerge from within.

C. The breathing exercises described in Christopher S. Hyatt's book "Secrets of Western Tantra" can also help one to release and cleanse the repressed human and animal core life impulses. Wilhelm Reich's Orgonomy also made use of deep breathing to reduce repression within the human bio-organism.

D. Police society behaves just like Charles Manson society.

RE: FEMA, The North American Gulag System (All Who Have Been Ghettoed Beware)

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

On August 3, 1948 J. Edgar Hoover met with Attorney General J. Howard McGrath to form a plan (code named "Security Portfolio") whereby the President could suspend constitutional liberties during a national emergency. This basic plan has grown (Intelligence Activities, Senate Resolution 21) to allow for the surveillance, infiltration, arrest and incarceration of vast segments of the U. S. population in total disregard of habeas corpus rights. A Master Search Warrant (M. S. W. ) and Master Arrest Warrant (M. A. W. ) can be utilized by the Attorney General to direct the F. B. I. to "arrest persons I deem dangerous to the public peace and safety. These persons are to be detained and confined until further orders." In 1982 President Ronald Reagan issued National Security Directive 58 which empowered Robert McFarlane and Col. Oliver North to utilize the N. S. C. to retrofit the F. E. M. A. for the management of the nation during national crisis. This allows the President to declare a state of emergency, empowering the head of the F. E. M. A. to take control of the internal infrastructure of the United States and "suspend" the Constitution. The President could invoke executive orders 11000 thru 11004 and 11490 which would: 1-Draft all citizens into work-forces under government supervision. 2-Empower the Postmaster General to register all men, women and children. 3-Seize all airports and aircraft. 4-Seize all housing and establish forced relocation of citizens. The F. E. M. A. has spent billions of dollars in D. O. D. black budget funds, twenty times what it ineffectually spends on real disaster relief activities. A large percentage of these funds have been utilized to build the basic infrastructure of a highly defense able military government and supporting detainment system (concentration camps). It has been widely rumored that the capacity to confine more than 3½ million people and transport more than 1½ million people in rail box cars has been achieved, Native/African/Latin Americans being high priorities for detainment. It has also been rumored that this system would be in full use "if" the U. S. were to invade south of the border. This system has also been enplaced in Canada. The State Department would not allow escape from the U. S. nor allow the stockpile of psycho-social pharmaceuticals to diminish. They would also manage the national penal system, including slave labor. The G. S. A. would be reaction able for all private property seizures for government use. The D. O. D. would be fully "responsible" for controlling all communications and commercial/industrial property seizures. The H. E. W. would be reaction able for the national education system. The Fifth and Sixth Armies under the Provost Marshall, being federal law enforcement armies under the D. O. D., would operate in black fatigues similar to those in George Orwell's "1984." These armies would deploy thousands of small black helicopters, most of which would be (have been) piloted by F. E. M. A. personnel, F. E. M. A. having become the most powerful known organization in the U. S., having the ability to coordinate all levels of known "law" enforcement under one government bureaucratic mechanism (no more state or local police). The U. S. could potentially find itself under U. N. control through this system. The Commerce Department would be reaction able for the distribution of food and goods. The Federal Bank (not a real Federal agency) would monitor and control monetary flow. Present trends in "law" enforcement contraindicate this system being used for anything other than genocide, both racially and culturally. In China at least 10,000 known executions occur annually, the pistol shot in the back of the head being the favored method, previous to being lined up "dress right dress" and having bodily organs confiscated by "medical professionals" on the spot. Our DOD staff generals have worshiped this efficiency in population/mind control from afar for almost 50 years. Look at what our own C. I. A. has trained puppet and military governments in foreign "nations" to practice upon their own citizens. Can we honestly believe that we will be treated any differently if we as citizens become systematically disarmed and subjugated? These people make it a point to torture first then kill, making it as painful as possible. Throwing a mutilated human corpse into the street for public viewing has become Standard Operating Procedure for CIA advised governments in South and Central America.

SOME RECOMMENDED SOLUTIONS:

- A. Organize massive resistance against the monopolization of planetary destiny (U. N. ).
- B. Be prepared to seize all assets design-ated for used against the public after the President signs our lives over to the U. N. and hidden world government.
- C. Learn how to dig a proper (safe) bunker. We may have to hide our children from the 2000 pound bomb rain while the adult public seizes all air strips and fuel stores to shut down the military/police genocide machine we have created.
- D. Armed resistance among the masses could be part of the take-over bid. This gives the soldiers and police an excuse to open fire and slaughter millions. No army can control the public if it refuses to cooperate.
- E. Study systems-design. This basic scientific discipline was utilized to design the world takeover plot. Systems logic has been kept out of school curriculum for a "reason."
- F. If you understand how the system of hidden government influence works you can undermine all key systems utilized by the Scottish Rite Free Mason (Illuminati dupe) owned bureaucracies (Federal Reserve) to prevent the final takeover.
- G. You can also redesign the economy to make the gold and other financial assets monopolized by the hidden government worthless as a socioeconomic leveraging tool.
- H. Organize meditation groups so that higher knowledge can be experienced and communicated freely.
- I. Old stone churches have usually been built on Earth Energy Grid lines. These stone structures act as acupuncture needles for the planet. Meditation workshops conducted inside these structures can help clean the aura of our planet.
- J. The earth owns herself, land ownership and monopolized resources being key elements in establishing any slave society. She feeds us all without "attached strings." How can we be-have any differently with these resources. Natural (consensual) communal life promotes the fair distribution of goods and services via free trade, socioeconomic leveraging being difficult under free circum-stances.

RE: The Republican and Democratic Parties Undermine The U. S. Constitution

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

The police-state remains the central common bureaucratic denominator among modern bureaucratic systems that operate as socioeconomic dragnets, probably for the same or for similar "hidden rule" (Swiss-Roman Mafia?), whether the bureaucratic system appears as "communist" (artificial commune) or sham "democracy." Political parties can be created as information filtering intermediary interfaces between the public and the local, state or national bureaucratic systems, being "tailor made" to promote ideas that have utility in creating a police-state that acts as a mass brainwashing tool, as well as appealing to segments of the population that have strong mob characteristics. In the United States, the Republican Party has risen to the top of the collective political cesspool as the favored toilet paper clump of the "white-bread turd" mob majority, finding appeal with the security seeking masses and the hidden power-elite, with some "Top Turds" (Presidents) having been Director of Central Intelligence, Yale Skull-and-Bones Members or 33rd Degree Scottish Rite Free Masons prior to "election." The appeal of the Republican party among the masses can be linked to a shared characterological disease that was first identified by Wilhelm Reich, M. D. as the Emotional Plague. The behavior of the Emotionally Plagued (all who have been brainwashed and repressed, and who interfere with the lives of others) involves gathering information about others, conspiring to destroy others, attacking others from safe ambush, and publicly displaying the victim for profit and mob punishment, the Starr investigation of Clinton's sex-life being prototypical of this process. The police-state draws its power from the emotional plague symptomatology of its citizen mob, as the mob will demand strong police presence in order to keep ecstasy from being perceivably apparent anywhere in the lives of fellow mob-citizens, ecstasy being part of the "intolerable" cure for the Emotional Plague and police-state "society." Those who desire exploitive influence and/or control over socioeconomic process must build a highly policed class stratification that evolves into the "ideal" of secret elite capstone, thin layer of stooge millionaires, thick layer of police-citizen middle class (notice that the "security" industry remains one of the few growing industries that still employs at middle class wages) and the poor as drone-citizen or slave social reservoir. Since fear acts as the primary motivation for the maintenance of an unpleasant police-state atmosphere, there must be a "bottom feeding" class of citizenry who have no place in "society" and who must be homeless and starving (Republicans hate people who feed the poor because it "undermines the economy") at least until the police-state ideal of capitalist marshal law goes into effect, this marshal law being the final stage in the long term plans of the secret-elite. This may be the first time in world history where all of the required elements for total world police-state domination have been brought to bear upon humanity, pharmaceuticals and direct surveillance of the public by the secret elite being the final key elements in creating police-state Earth (in October 1994 the United Nations was given operational control over the surveillance satellite systems that were built by the United States during the "cold war." The Republican party has become the "police party" in America, its leading figures personifying the personal dynamism of a Hitler or Stalin.

Since the ideal behind the centralized control of civilization involves one central controlling element, all competing political parties must operate as "faces" of the central element, the Democratic Party being the welfare-state face of the police-state central idea. Traditional brainwashing, whether individual or group, prerequisites that five primary conditions be met, the first being isolation (do you know your neighbors?) and the second being "the fear that molds a character structure," these first two ideas being central to the police-state atmosphere. The third idea, which involves the centralized bureaucracy being "the" only source of pleasure and nourishment has become the primary function of the artificial "liberal" front. This stage in the evolution of U. S. bureaucracy began with the Democratic Party of The Great Depression years and became secure precedent after the freedom movement of the "sixties" died via police-state industry co-option throughout the "seventies." Democrats now function as character neurotic puppet figures that promote dependance upon the police-state bureaucracy as well as police-state co-option of social interactive process, most Democrats being "recruited" based upon a shared character neurotic symptomatology that lacks the strong motivation of say a Hitler, Stalin or Rush Limbaugh, but remains masochistically predisposed toward "caving in under pressure," so as to conform to police-state precedent. The "Liberal" front, involving the standardization of education and communications, promotes the fourth brainwashing element which involves complete centralized control over "reality." This requires the coordinated efforts of all police-citizen institutions (government, business etc. . . .), as well as mass denial of contradiction within police-citizen reality, the police-state "reality bubble" being "tailor made" to promote materialism as antithesis and substitute for human ecstatic experience. Human ecstasy bursts the police-state reality bubble, thus becoming public enemy number one, whether it be in the form of orgasm, the open minded enthusiasm of youth, the "high" of psychedelia and shamantic discipline, the "Witch Craft" of Earth Mother interaction or the experiential out-perspective and introspection of physical alchemy (ecstasy experienced in meditationally personifying matter, chemical reaction and nuclear explication). This brings us to the "fifth element" of mass brainwashing, which involves the repression and sublimation of ecstatic drive within the human bio-organism. Anxiety stasis must be built, through sexual repression, within the majority of the population for mass brainwashing to take social root as tradition maintained through compulsive and compulsory violence against youth, this violence being perpetrated by parents who characterologically personify police-state control. The tradition of the patriarchal family unit becomes the "in" for secret elitist influence upon the mass-mind of the youth, drone-citizens being manufactured within predefined characterological tolerance during the entire phase of youth development, especially the first four years. Youth who do not show progress in personifying drone-citizen characteristics can come under police-citizen scrutiny for harassment. Drone-citizens (masochists) who behave within tolerance and with enthusiasm can be promoted to police-citizen (compulsive) or become disposable-contact millionaires for the secret power-elite (Bill Gates'), centralized hierarchal patriarchal police-order as substitute socioeconomic process being the ultimate goal for the power-elite. All who "don't fit" become "examples" through punishment, torture and/or execution.

RE: A General (Very General) Discors on The Nature of This "Satan" Business

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

The direct holotropic experience and associated study of the archetype of the repressed human (individual and collective) subpersonality that has a general form resembling what some world religions refer to as "Satan," "Devil," or "Demon," by those who would bother to dispel stereotyped definition and observe directly the nature of the reality in question, reveals a self perpetuating psycho-social process. Anyone who has experience with Multiple Personality Syndrome and holotropic psychological theory can relate that when natural expressions become repressed or split from the main personality of a human organism, these repressed expressive forms and corresponding vital energies organize into subpersonalities that have a will of their own (the will to survive included) and that these subpersonalities desire to express themselves through the human ego without changing their own natures. Most repressed people have one dominant repressed subpersonality and some people have many. In this map, we will discuss the one dominant repressed subpersonality archetype using the terms "Devil" for the collective and "Demon" for the individual subpersonalities while not advocating specific "religious" views or control over any living thing. Most images of Demons reveal typical characteristics, some of which include human and animal features, divine beauty, a red hue, musical ability, luminescence, dis-eased features, rapacious sexual drives, super seductive qualities, criminal intelligence and bestial stupidity. These features vary from demon to demon, just as human qualities vary, a demon being a bearer of light (bearer as in burdened with), thus holotropically personifying the Freudian Superego with Counter Cathexis as "building Block," "the binding quality inherent in the counter cathexis complex expressing itself as "holotropic rage-reality" being anxiety stasis. Basic psychological theory and practice indicate that experiential ownership remains an important prerequisite for the elimination of the "holotropic counter cathexis matrix as sub-personality," meditational personification being a key element in this ownership process. The "demon" can then be "exorcized" (Gen-X!) over time as the free will of the patient dis-solves the neurotic anxiety through experiential insight. In order for healing to take place one must (under controlled circumstances) embody the distorted impulse, reducing it experientially/meditationally by living with the experiential awareness of the demonic impulse without being dominated by it. Over time, as the binding quality associated with continually holding back natural impulse loosens, the natural undistorted impulse will show continually more often, further reducing the complexity of the repressed subpersonality. More of one's deep self can find expression in the world as love and freedom. Demons have taken the name "light bearers" because as small children we have been forced to "hold in" our natures in favor of citizen-like behavior. This "holding in" becomes habit and sinks into the subconscious to form the preconscious counter cathexis which builds the demon (super ego). Those who become repressed typically program a social mask into their characterological makeup in compensation for repressed terror and hatred without even realizing it. When life impulse gets temporarily blocked by fear, the life impulse becomes an anger impulse, this being natural. When life expression comes under siege by anxiety stasis, life expression becomes rage and eventually depression (Orgone >Oranur > Deadly Orgone), this being unnatural and unhealthy because it destroys mind, emotion and body while blocking "spiritual" experience or awareness of implicate and explicate orders at various vibrational levels (including masculine and feminine process and archetype). In order for a demonic subpersonality to find expression (to relieve its burden) without destroying itself, it must sneak around in the darkness of an unlit (unenlightened) subconscious and seize opportunities to kill, rape or express whatever it feels it must where and when the ego-will remains weak and can do no damage to the structural makeup of the subpersonality. The impulse to murder, being of a distorted and impermanent nature, can be eliminated by the meditational holotropic experiential contact with the underlying fund-a-mental source of motivation that precedes all distorted impulse and compulsive compensation. Every time the well-intentioned ego "moves through" the underlying layers of repression experientially, the will of the ego can "unlock" the anxiety stasis that produces the rage by reducing the preconscious momentum for "holding back" that builds the subpersonality, thus releasing rage and revealing love. The superego as holotropic subpersonality dis-solves over time as the binding momentum that builds the reality of the demon diminishes, will-tuned meditational experience (focused awareness) being a demon's worse enemy. The burden of the "light" (vitality) it "bears" can force it into our awareness and thus into existential danger. Anything that increases life energy can aid in the healing process both individually and collectively. Exploitive conspiratorial organizations like The Illuminati (Cult of the All Seeing Eye) or The Mafias organize themselves around mass "demonic" principles or mob mentality, the "bearing of the light" being mirrored in the paranoid monopolization of resources and the undermining of public awareness of the exploitive processes involved in the attempt to transform the public into a drone-pool, the deadened cyborg called "citizen" being maintained for exploitive reasons both from within and without. The free will of the people can dissolve the external conspiracies as easily as the free will of the individual can dissolve the internal conspiracy. It just requires that one be able to gain insight into the problem and solve it. This requires honesty and integrity. If you want to "get rid of" the exploiter, you must be smarter than the exploiter and catch him committing a hateful act (FDA), then humanly undermine the processes being built by the "perp." Punishment only makes him stronger, it being superior to accept him as part of "whom we have become," watch him and not let him have his murderous way in the form he would have it. The life within him has value and must be recovered through respect of free will choice, "Hell" being totalitarianism of any kind. Totalitarianism maintains itself through fear of torture (punishment), torture thus builds anxiety stasis which builds hatred. Hateful acts build anxiety stasis. Cutting off heads in the name of "God" makes one become demonic. Those who insist upon repressing the demonic in denial also tend to project inner demons upon their healthy neighbors. Many have been killed as "witches" because they were sexually attractive. Repressed psychic ability, having been denied as "demonic" can be owned and used, as it makes sense to reclaim psychic ability from within and "UFO" technology from without so as to regain personal control of one's destiny. Demons can influence synchronistic phenomena associated with repressed traits. Why let the C. F. R. control our "new age" destiny when we can control it for ourselves, "hell" being the archetype for compulsory reality.

RE: Holodigm Describing Individual Human Health as a Holotropic, Intellectual, Neurological, Chemical, Emotional, Bioenergetic and Physical Interlocking Paradigm

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

Holotropic experience being the primary anchoring point for human existential experience, a healthy human being has the ability to experience ideas and realities as holotropic. Unhealthy human specimens lack this ability on many levels (character neurosis) or suffer an uncontrollable flood of unwanted holotropic experience (paranoid schizophrenia), human will being the primary tool utilized to control the awareness and nature of holotropic reality. The will can distort and deny any reality even to the point of death. The will can also build or alter the reality being experienced (magic), brainwashing being a way to fool others into experiencing a specific holotropic reality against their best interests (black magic). Brainwashing and mind-control utilize intimidation to force others to utilize their wills to repress holotropic experience that has no value for the controlling authority figure and to build the substitute reality desired by the authority figure. Through the Freudian Counter Cathexis the misapplied will becomes a preconscious mechanism that blocks high fidelity holotropic experience as well as the corresponding vital energies. These blockages manifest as muscular armoring, anxiety stasis, rage, lowered intelligence, distorted physical growth, loss of orgasmic potency, and blocked or distorted imagination. The subject cannot experience a reality other than the reality provided by the authority figure. The subject then spreads the dis-ease (emotional plague) to others utilizing the same methods utilized upon them, as a bioenergetically distorted human specimen cannot emotionally tolerate the presence of a bioenergetically healthy or healing specimen. The unhealthy will first gain control of all who seem "different" and then destroy all who remain so.

A healed specimen (shaman) can guide others back to a high fidelity holotropic state, the methods utilized for this being different from those utilized to brainwash. The "reborn" recognize that the desired realities for holotropic experience exist within the individual in conjunction with synchronistically corresponding external realities. In order for the individual to experience them clearly they must be free on all levels of their own existence. The individual can be taught to holotropically experience the reality of the social mask that they forced programmed themselves to wear as compulsive compensation for the distortion of reality caused by repression. The mask can then be discarded by the healing subject as SHe pleases. The free will of the subject must be respected for healing to take place. Intimidation and control of the subject produces anxiety which blocks the healing process. The subject can then be taught how to navigate the stratification of distorted reality and systematically unlock the repressed experience, there then being a corresponding unlocking of emotion and muscular armoring (clonisms). The subjects must be left to interpret the value of what has been experienced. Only then can they heal, the control being in their own hands, as the true healer can be no more than an experienced guide. Anyone who controls another kills another, as punishment does not heal. The subject can then experience reality on a vital and high fidelity level, the synchronistic external reality (luck) in the individual's life becoming as undistorted as the holotropic inner reality (vision). The healthy individual can experience physical, social, sexual, astral, intellectual, neurochemical, neuroelectrical, genetic, and spiritual realities as they choose without anyone looking over his or her shoulder to control the nature of the experience (church), the "healthy" having a full range of capabilities that the "brainwashed" lack.

Those who have been brainwashed and who have become emotionally plagued work continually to make it "illegal" to become healthy. The sheep men in our patriarchal civilization compulsively maintain their versions of "ideal" and "moral" social realities, being pale substitutes for the realities that we can find within ourselves. They maintain these substitute products by police force, using brainchange methods as weapons while outlawing our own use of brainchange as a healing tool. They insist on controlling our lives on all levels including social, sexual and neurochemical so that we will only be able see what we are told to see, as we "cannot be allowed" to see that those who control others do so for exploitive reasons. Those who control international and centralized banking (33rd Degree Scottish Rite Free Masons own the Fed, most lower degree members probably being unaware of the nature of their order) pull the strings today, deciding what our reality will be. They have become modern black magicians. We could potentially be "bled dry" if we don't collectively heal and remove all centralized bureaucratic authority and restore the U.S. Constitution as the only enforceable law, allowing grace to manifest freely among a free population.

The experiential unlocking of an anxiety stasis and the bursting of the associated "reality bubble" enhances one's ability to empathetically tune into different realities, this being a prerequisite for affecting an influence upon the field phenomena that creates matter. This explication of the field of matter can be stopped or created from the appropriately tuned perspective, all creation as we know it being mind created from the light template or Unified Field, it can be uncreated and recreated with appropriately tuned mind, experience of the effected reality being key. The mass mind of humanity offers much resistance to free individual involvement in reality creation, making intense meditational discipline important. Group meditation will produce faster results and help to break the stranglehold on the collective mind of Earth humanity.

RE: Basic Operational Holodigm for a Quantum Field Driven Electrogravitic Craft

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

A large diameter metallic disk with the top and bottom dielectrically separated and as close together as practically possible promotes optimal efficiency. Both the top and bottom have a central round plate that holds a high voltage charge (times ten to the 14th power or above volts). These primary charge plates take a charge from a battery-pack to produce the initial electro-gravitational field around and through the craft and occupants to create a vacuum around the craft as air molecules repulse outward (ionic discharge). The vacuum having been created, a segmented ring-plate that surrounds each primary charge plate can be charged without worry of electrical arcing shorting the potential between the positive top and negative bottom of the craft. As the voltage increases the electrogravitic field begins to draw energy from the Unified Field (the Unified Field feeds the electrogravitic field by quantum implicate pressure). The battery pack can then be recharged as the craft now has an energy source in the Unified Field. The Aether driven electrogravitic field of the craft can then feed a voltage control system that maintains the overall voltage at safe levels. Once the voltage level becomes adequate, the craft will levitate, the weight and momentum of the craft having been canceled by the crafts own generated field. The voltages can be varied between the ring segments and central plates to produce directional changes as the craft moves in the direction of the positive charge. Field coils can be used to produce rotation. Since craft, passengers and contraband move in the same electro-gravitational field, all accelerate as one entity. The craft could accelerate at a 100G rate and the passengers would not feel the acceleration. This form of technology does not easily lend itself to being used as a weapon, at least as far as dropping bombs and spraying bullets is concerned. This technology in the hands of the public would lend itself naturally to peaceful use, as high speed transport makes it nearly impossible to be oppressed by police force. The centralized bureaucratic control of this technology (as has become the case) could potentially accelerate the creation of the ultimate police-state. These ships can act as antenna for beyond light speed communication by virtue of the fact that they interact directly with the Unified Field, thus becoming galactic communications devices and transportation in peaceful hands or the ultimate police helicopter in the wrong hands, high intensity light weapons for crowd control being easily employed by these craft. The craft could also emit high intensity electromagnetic pulses for crowd pacification. The exclusive use of this technology by any central bureaucracy would be potentially lethal to the liberties demanded by human nature and free society. Public access to this technology would promote its peaceful use, it being used to generate electric power and provide cheap transportation on earth and into outer space. It would be wise not to take any form of weaponry into outer space, as this could threaten the liberties enjoyed in more enlightened extraterrestrial societies.

The centralized control of this technology also endangers the Earth as a life process. Initially the centralized bureaucracy would gain control over weather patterns to the point of to the point of making storms for use as weapons, powerful electrogravitic space platforms being the first electrogravitic facilities produced by the central bureaucracy. As the Earth's electro-magnetic/gravitic grid system come under the complete control of the hidden elite, this space platform system can be expanded to include ground facilities at key grid points, thus becoming an electrogravitic "dooms day" device. Decentralize now or potentially die!

SOME ENGINEERING HURDLES:

1. The vacuum created around the craft acts as an insulator while in atmospheric flight. Thermodynamic systems would need to be employed to actively transfer heat away from the inner compartments to the hull where it could radiate outward much like the sun radiates.
2. The electric control system, battery/capacitor system and supporting electrics would need to be reliable at extreme voltages (100s of trillions of volts).
3. Life support would be required for all vehicles and would need to be reliably adapted for the specific use of the craft.
4. If we tap the Unified Field for industrial and communications use, we should learn to do so in harmony with the life energies of our earth mother.
5. The industrial/banking status quo will fight the development of this technology for public use by use of police/military force. Once people understand the quantum field on a mass scale, they will better understand their own life systems including the basic influence the quantum field has on genetic function. Police controlled exploitation of the masses will become less probable.

RE: The Sudden Nationwide Emergence of Remote Influencing in the Federally Mandated War Against Youth and Real Freedom

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

The recent nationwide emergence of gun violence among "white" males between the ages of 10 and 13 should be a warning sign that a more intense than usual conflict rages within the traditional "American" collective psyche. This added something may be the cracks (circumcision of body and mind). As most people in America become less violent, those who formerly hid their rather extreme violent tendencies behind a majority-cultural facade (police-citizen) begin to lose "grip" upon their own psychological equilibriums, as increasing cosmically influenced orgone/ethric template vitality pushes the deeper repressed psychological layering into surface awareness. For many people this means peace and love-knowledge. For many of those who tend toward being encapsulated in a character neurotic ego/super ego character structure, this means repressed violent/reactionary impulse pushing it's way into awareness for exorcization through focused awareness and integration with a larger and healthier inner and outer perspective. This overall tendency would show among the youth initially as the youth have more vitality and incompletely formed character structures. Their lack of experience makes it more difficult for them to maintain the "mask that lies." Those who have been "raised" as citizen prototypes and tools for the maintenance of an artificial substitute society that benefits "the few" at the expense of "the many" must be psychosomatically ruined so as to embody the substitute society and be available as weapons in the defense of the substitute ideals of the sham culture. The anxiety/rage muscular armoring manifest in the body and mind turn the developing "healthy man" within the youth into a controlled explosion machine (soldier).

There remain those who maintain a safe position of outside exploitive influence and will kill to maintain all sham cultural facades that serve their purposes. Knowledge hidden for thousands of years in their superegotistically-human grip that has a surprisingly advanced nature can be abused for psychological warfare purposes, the masonic tradition of piracy being a good study for prototypical examples of this style of behavior both in the symbol of the "Jolly Roger" and in the standard operating procedures of pirates. The pirate captain must know the sea from a larger perspective than does the merchant ship captain who out of fear sticks to the sea lanes. The pirate captain must also understand the mob behavioral patterns of his crew if he plans to remain alive as pirate captain. The pirates of hidden European society may have been in the Americas before Columbus. The Skull and Bones Society of George Bush may be the link between masonic piracy and the C. I. A. (Skull and Bones Cell at C. I. A. headquarters). The symbol of this society being a symbol for keeping advanced knowledge out of the collective reach of the general public whether through collective poisoning (C. I. A. heroine trade), psychological warfare or execution (Kennedy). Mobs must be duped into "playing along," and our distorted character structures and associated denial systems play key roles in the psychological warfare process. One trick used in consolidating power and control has been to create an "incident" which reenforces the collective characterological anxiety within the mob and then offer a "solution" in the form of more centralized control of "society" and the outlawing of public ownership of firearms, the mob then being more likely to accept the further militarization of its police and government bureaucracy (then you can sneak in 43 or so concentration camps to get rid of that "Indian Problem"). The "government of and by the people" becomes further isolated from the "people."

A large percentage of the people in America who own combat rifles that can threaten F. E. M. A. helicopters at safe firing distance being middle-aged "white" males who remain very serious about brainwashing their sons in the Christian tradition of ownership of the land and control over the people of that land and being opposed to that "spooky" (and more cunning) "bank-run" tradition of the same, their young sexually burgeoning sons become prime targets for the remote view/influence teams of the pirate-like factions of the U. S. government intelligence community. The viewers collect intelligence on "Uncle Bob's" gun collection and the general characterological makeup of the target. If all elements required to create an incident can be identified, a remote influencer can be used against the target to push the target's characterological "buttons" by meditatively introducing into the boy's mind intensely violent holotropic experience of say . . . using Uncle Bob's guns to express some of that repressed hatred of femininity by killing some former school chums, images that the boy has extreme trouble removing from his mind being a telltale sign that remote influencing could be at work. Characterologically encapsulated adults can be immune to this process because psychic influences repulse off of their armored ego structures both from within and without (mass catatonia as substitute utopia). Healthy adults can be immune to the process because they can be aware of it happening and initiate appropriate countermeasures. Healthy adults have the added advantage of being highly resistant to mob influence of any kind, except for the direct violence of the majority mobs who think of themselves as different and superior because of it. Information remains presently available about the remote viewing and influencing process on the Net and elsewhere. Beware of the disinformative influence of government "sellout" writers who attempt to limit the amount of useful information in their books by containing the information of their books within distorted and simplified conceptual frameworks, so as to derail the searching public in dis-covering and ex-ploring certain core psycho social processes, around which the standard operating procedure of hidden influence builds itself, the core idea, purposely kept out of reach being our own responsibility for our contribution to the collective life of society as collective slave.

Teenage Youth and the energy and enthusiasm associated with it will probably come under increasing fire from police authority as being "dangerous" and "out of control." C. I. A. influence could come to bear in this situation in the form of psychological warfare operations involving newspaper articles about "murderous teens." The sexual repression of youth remains a primary goal for centralized authoritarian rule and keeping teens locked in their houses under marshal law directed against youth remains a primary method of arresting social development in youth so as to arrest individual sexual evolution, the traditional patriarchal family being the preferred implement for use against natural human evolution and expression.

RE: The Dragon or The Earth Biospheric Energy Grid System

WARNING: THIS MAP CONTAINS SOME SEMANTIC DISTORTION.

The Unified Field of quantum physics has a fundamental formative influence upon all of physical existence. The womb template out of which light continually explicates, much as biological form explicates from its ethric template, can be experienced directly or understood through unified field mathematical discipline. The focus of will can shape the light foundation of existential reality through the manipulation of this foundational support web. Daath (?23/32/34?) of the Sephirotic Tree represents this "word of power" will force within the cosmic/earth human. The basic angular relationships of the tree symbolize the angular relationships shared among force lines of standing wave amplified vibrational patterning within the fundamental force reservoir for our physical universe which issues forth from the existential plane that explicates at the next higher range of existential frequencies (astral). These patterns repeat themselves at light speed in the form of light, sub light speed as Orgone and the ethric template, and at subsonic vibrational level as the basic pattern of the force channels of the planetary life energy grid system, the energy of the grid that harmonically resonates along the grid lines and at grid system crossing points being electromagnetic-gravitic force. Orgone, or the sub light speed operating energy reservoir that supports the ethric templating of matter, circulates in the grid and around the Earth in the same direction as and slightly faster than her rotation. Repression can operate at all of the template vibrational levels and distort the harmonically corresponding energies issuing forth as the expressive vibrational levels by altering the vibrational frequency characteristics of these energies. The continual operation of this distorting process promotes the destruction of light (valley of death), the dis-integration of matter and the buildup of Deadly Orgone (DOR), Deadly Orgone being the emotional energy of depression and disease and Oranur being the rage energy of the "border war" between Orgone and Deadly Orgone.

The knowledge associated with the process of the manifestational flow of light from the implicate/nonlocal/holographic-like vibrational reservoir and of the ether from light has traditionally been culturally stored in symbolic form in architecture and art. Thus allowing public access to basic schematic information on the nature of harmonic vibrational relationship between human, earth, moon, sun and cosmos. The inspirational quality of the art harmonizes with the depth of the collective mind of a fully free and truly graceful people, the symbol of the pillar for instance symbolizing the manifestation of web-like light fibers from the implicate as the foundation of "matter as image" with the related angular shapes in the architecture symbolizing the angular relationships between waveforms that support vibrational energy as field phenomena that repeat harmonically, building in complexity as energy becomes bound in form, an example being the angular relationships of the energy grid lines that carry the life energy of Earth as organism.

The basic idea of an individual opposing the natural expression from within and eventually losing natural grace, becoming enraged in repression, and compensating for this brutality with artificial grace as substitute reality remains an essential building block for the archetype of piracy that replaces living society with puppet society. The centralization of power in all of its forms, including knowledge, being the hand that controls the strings behind mob destiny. As the emotional plague takes hold of the people, they can forget the knowledge of love and only experience the knowledge of hatred as war and the cultural facade knowledge of "breeding." "Breeding" being the valve structure in the collective psyche that allows the hidden governing body to create wars and spread the hate disease to other populations. Substitute interpretations of architecture and art can be leaked into the public sphere as substitute knowledge that fans the flames of nationalistic or racial "pride" in collective rage. Vibrationally, this phenomena can influence higher frequency levels of reality, thus feeding the repressive distortion of consciousness throughout the cosmos.

Over time, one major mafia-like organization dominates all others on a planet and can potentially take near total control of deeper knowledge and the planetary energy grid system. Facilities that generate large volume electromagnetic-gravitic wave energy can be built on key "Bloch Wall" points in the planetary grid system and can be coordinated by one central planetary authority for use as a doomsday weapon that can electrogravitically tear the planet apart. This authority would use the weapon as a means of maintaining control of the enslaved population, much as a molesting father maintains control of his daughters by threatening to murder the family. Even if this "one authority" bluffs, the weapon must be real to act as a threat and no artificially maintained substitute security lasts. Even if the population remains irresponsible and does not collectively "stand up" and decentralize all planetary power and distribute this power among the now free individuals within the population by refusing to serve this mob created political monster, a "compulsive on the edge" could gain control of the weapon system and co-optively "fulfill a prophecy" by ending the world, thus another planet dies at the hands of the standard operating procedure of control another to temporarily compensate for ones own self created lack of contact with ones core vitality. The vibrations created by the death of the planet and its inhabitants feed the distortion of consciousness of the cosmos and make the distorted reality of planetary destruction more probable elsewhere. Over time the vibrational makeup of a universe can become so distorted that no light can explicate and the universe collapses in upon itself and disappears into the implicate, as explicate reality as we know it depends upon the balanced harmony of wave and field formation to build light and matter.

All true knowledge builds balanced experiential contact with the Unified Field of our known universe and expresses this reality as a form of love, this being the process associated with the common root word sol. Anxiety stasis blocks experiential contact with love and distorts love into hatred and depression, this depression then harmonically pollutes the surrounding emotional environment through direct contact or by compulsory police-reality maintaining force, as the sol process of astral light explication within the individual and collective human visionary field can be influenced harmonically by this process the collective visionary reality or the human race becomes a symbolic expression of this distortion of light explication, thus influencing human behavior harmonically (thought>emotion>action).
